

Androgino

Theodore

Bright young moon child
With the perfect round body
Two genders in onePolarity was so strong
It even planned to attack the gods
Oneness filled it with courageIt tried to reach the skyArrogance made the gods upset
They had to eliminate its strength
So they sliced it in twoSince then we wander in space
Trying to find our other half
Crying loud full of painI want to reunite with youOh tell me why
What do you want the most
To live together as one
And when the time comesWith one body and one soul
Living life as a whole
What do you ask of me thenI wanna die with you
