

Go On

Yip Deceiver

I saw you look back and now your cover's blown
You're feeling me or at least you're feeling me out
But you're not here alone
Anyone here can see that we were made for each other
Or maybe that's just me, cause you were made for me
Funny that you should say that
I guess I must have read you wrong
I didn't know that you were still hanging on
You need to let go, he really fucked you
But after he's gone, life will go on
You keep it locked inside but we're gonna find a way out
Here is your light
Even for tonight you deserve a better outcome
I want to give you one
You can go on unless you're coming back home with me
Quit being so dramatic, shorting out my circuitry
Send your man on cause you're coming back home with me
I don't believe in static, I believe in urgency
You can go on unless you're coming back home with me
So freaking enigmatic, spending all my currency
Send your man on cause you're coming back home with me
I'm feeling symptomatic, this is an emergency
