

The Vulture Acts I & II

Gallows

When you work for the father your sin is never saved

 You carry the net and he holds the spade

 You will drag the lakes, he will rob the graves

You will be remembered, no one will speak your nameCursed are the places you have been

 You lead us there and forced us in

 Take the girls to become the daughters

And if the horses won't drink drown them in the waterWhen you work for the father your sin is never saved

 You carry the net and he holds the spade

 You will drag the lakes, he will rob the graves

You will be remembered, no one will speak your nameCursed are the places you have been

 You lead us there and forced us in

 Take the girls to become the daughters

And if the horses won't drink drown them in the waterWhen you work for the father your sin is never saved

 You carry the net and he holds the spade

 You will drag the lakes and he will rob the graves

You will be remembered, no one will speak your nameLive by the sword, die for the lord

 Call down the vultures to dine on the corpseCursed are the places you have been

 You lead us there and forced us in

 Take the girls to become the daughters

And if the horses won't drink drown them in the waterWhen you work for the father your sin is never saved

 You carry the net and he holds the spade

 You will drag the lakes and he will rob the graves

You will be remembered, no one will speak your nameLive by the sword, die for the lord

 Call down the vultures to dine on the corpseCursed are the places you have been

 You lead us there and forced us in

 Take the girls to become the daughters

And if the horses won't drink drown them in the waterThis is the end

Songwriters

Lee Phillip Barratt;Laurent Benjamin Barnard;Stephen William Richard Carter;Christopher Frank

CarterPublished by

WARNER/CHAPPELL MUSIC, LTD. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damlyrics.com/>