Todd Carey

There's something in your face again Something I can't quite name but your so quiet I can't know for the life of me I need you to let me in baby just let me in The silence you keep is tearing me apart limb from limb

You're trying, I know I'm trying to but baby tell me

What has come over you
What has come over me
Is it the weight of all the lovers that we've left behind
I need you to let em go
So you can let me in Let em go and let the love we have ahead of us begin
Begin

There's something in your eyes again
The pain from way back when and I'm scared because I know that I'm to blame for it If I could go back again to the distant past back when I stop the kid I was from making those mistakes again

You're trying I know
I'm trying too
but baby tell me

What has come over you
What has come over me
Is it the weight of all the lovers that we've left behind
I need you to let em go
So you can let me in
Let em go and let the love we have ahead of us begin
Begin

You say your trying hard

I know that your trying hard but this city is a brave new world and nothingâ€™s gonna stop us now because you know my word is true my heart is on the floor for you so baby come along with me

Thereâ€™s nothing that we canâ€™t do Thereâ€™s something in your face again Something I canâ€™t quite name but your so quiet I canâ€™t know for the life of me

What has come over you
What has come over me
Is it the weight of all the lovers that weâ€™ve left behind
Let em go and let the love we have ahead of us begin
Begin
