

Are You Nervous?

Jason Grier

Now you know that it's all your fault
How are you doing with it?
Hey, are you nervous? Everything that you've ever known
Will go up in flames
Tell me are you nervous? And the sky will fall down on you
And the world still turns around, 'round, 'round
And the sky will fall down on you
As your life goes on down, down, down Everything that you've ever done
Will come back to haunt you
Tell me are you nervous? Now you know that it is for sure
How are you taking it?
Do you deserve this? And the sky will fall down on you
And the world still turns around, 'round, 'round
And the sky will fall down on you
And your life goes on down, down, down And the sky will fall down on you And the sky will fall down on you
And the world still turns around, 'round, 'round
And the sky will fall down on you
And your life goes on down, down, down And the sky will fall
And the world still turns around
And the sky will fall
And your life goes on down, down, down
