Danger Zone

Great White

black rain following me around i'm clawing my way from the underground i've set myself up for some big time hell to pay self destruction's a part of me a demolition man to the first degree and every life i touch gets blown away i'll be fine here 'cause it's familiar feel so alive when i'm dancing on the edge oh no no i'm in the danger zone again oh no no i'm living in the danger zone oh no no living in the danger zone i'll be all right here i've got no worries i've already paved the way
i've already paved the way i live my life any way i choose i've told you before it's mine to use and the way i live doesn't leave that much to lose too old to change too young to die too fast to live too high to fly and i found out too late love is just a lie i'll be fine here 'cause it's familiar can't read the signs but i know what's up ahead

i've already paved the way (Guitar Solo)
i'll be fine here don't you worry yeah i was lost for a time but jack is back again i already know the way baby i already know the way
i've already paved the way

feel so alive when i'm jumping off the edge
lost for a time but jack is back again
