

Unhallowed (Alternative Mix '95)

Dissection

Pain, plague and pestilence shall sweep through your sight

Grim is the truth that hides behind the fading light

The eyes of the beholder stares empty, silent and cold

For the deeds of the dark ones are fearful to beholdWith liftened dreadful swords we swear allegiance to our lord
We're the unhallowed usurpers of the throneDusk will bring the gathered ones upon the feeble men of God

Superior mighty warriors of pure unhallowed blood

Shoulder to shoulder they reign in the darkest of nights

Together at the edge of time, brought forth to slay the lightThy majesty, our majesty, sole superior evil itself

We'll be your instrument and the blade of their damnationSo futile humas on the knees for the Satanized

Burning high at the stakes with the love of ChristDo not rest in peace, may your souls all burn black

Your sons and daughters I will kiss with a poisoned smile

Sing out the pain of your roots that you cannot deny

We'll crush your worthless prayers of the weak forgotten lieThe apocalypse is here, oh fools of the withering sky
Encounter darkness as you fall into the endless fire

The jaws of darkness open wide, lost souls scream out in vain

All will writhe eternity's perpetual infernal painWith liftened dreadful swords we swear allegiance to our lord
We're the unhallowed usurpers of the throne
