

Crying in the Sunshine

Miniature Tigers

I close my eyes for a minute
I thought I was I was somebody else, yeah
I thought I was somebody good, somebody real who could love you, love you, love you like you needed to be loved
But, I couldn't love you like that 'cause I couldn't remember who I was Yeah, yeah, yeah
Crying in the sunshine
Gothic in the daylight
Crying over you, crying over you I close my eyes for a second
I thought I was some place else
Some place where you couldn't hear me
I was screaming out to you, baby Do you even still see me as someone good in your life?
Or, am I standing in the way of the things that you really want?
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Crying in the sunshine
Gothic in the daylight
Crying over you, crying over you Yeah, yeah, yeah
Crying in the sunshine
Weeping like a sunset
Crying over you, crying over you I close my eyes for a minute
I thought I was somebody else
I wish I was somebody else
I wish I was somebody else
In the daylight, in the sun I see your true colors
In the daylight, in the sun I see your true colors Yeah, yeah, yeah
Crying in the sunshine
Gothic in the daylight
Crying over you, crying over you
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Crying in the sunshine
Weeping like a sunset
Crying over you, crying over you
