Haunted

The Moody Blues

I really miss you when the nights are long
And only silence is heard in this world of song
But life goes on
And forever more
Ill be haunted by your love

I see you walking through the gates of home
And then I wake up to find
I'm still all alone
I should have known
But forever more
Ill be haunted by your love

Lonely is the river
As it tumbles to the ocean
Searching for our future
We can find our way back home

My only comfort is the love we share
And as I walk through this world
With sadness everywhere
I've had my share
And forever more,
Ill be haunted by your love

And forever more,
Ill be haunted by your love

Standing in the doorway
As the sunrise greets the morning
Searching for our future
We can find our way back home

I really miss you when the nights are long
And only silence is heard in this world of song
But life goes on
And forever more
Ill be haunted by your love

Haunted by your love

Haunted by your love
Haunted by your love
Haunted by your love
