

In My Next 5 Beers

Trailer Choir

She said I'm gonna get my MBA
A corner office and a 401K
A beach house and a BMW
A BMW Right after that I'm gonna fall in love
I'll get married join the country club
Well, that's my next five years now how 'bout you?
Well darlin', I hadn't really thought about it that much But in my next 5 beers
I'll probably still be sittin' right here
Workin' on my goal, drink 'em while their cold
Livin' life by [Incomprehensible] I won't be reaching for the stars
But I'll be reaching across this bar
To put a long neck in my hand
That's my master plan for my next 5 beers She kinda smiled and laughed at me
Said, "How you ever gonna get where you wanna be"
I said, "Well, darlin', tonight I'm half way there
Or on my way" And you could throw a little sunshine on this parade
How long's it been since you've been saved
By a reckless boy like me
With only one care and my next 5 beers I wanna see you let down your hair
Spend a little time with me
Tonight my jokes are free
So grab yourself a chair I won't be reaching for the stars
But I'll be reaching across this bar
To put a long neck in my hand
That's my master plan for my next 5 beers I work as hard as anyone
Every week until the job gets done
But when the weekend rolls around
I like to party loud and have a little fun So while you're reaching for the stars
I'll be reachin' across this bar
To put a long neck in my hand
That's my master plan for my next 5 beers To put a long neck in my hand, yeah
That's my master plan for my next 5 beers
