

Lost Youth / Lost You

How to Dress Well

Change is hard
When you can't feel close even though that's what you need the most
Even though I'm beside you
And they say that love can change your heart
And brighten up that darkness and I thought I had to
When I was younger
But I lost youth when I lost you I say I think I know what love is now
I think I got it figured out
But then the second that I open my mouth
I want to change my heart again
I say I think I know what love is now
I think I kinda figured it out
But then the second that I open my mouth
I'm going to change my heart again
I'm going to change my heart again, gain, gain, gain, gain
I'm going to change my heart again
I'm going to change my heart again, gain, gain, gain, gain
In the garden, safe
Leave the roses, green
Stems couldn't take
And there's a token of your love
And in the garbage pail
Have to just walk away
Turn to rotate, leave
Say, say I want your love No, I never, never loved someone until I'd seen you, baby
'Til I'd seen you dancing
But oh, if I could have had you won
It's just the face that captivates
I would have kept it that way
So I say
I say I think I know what love is now
I think I got it figured out
But then the second that I open my mouth
I want to change my heart again
I say I think I know what love is now
I think I kinda figured it out
But then the second that I open my mouth
I'm going to change my heart again
I'm going to change my heart again, gain, gain, gain, gain

I'm going to change my heart again
I'm going to change my heart again, gain, gain, gain, gain Say that you're all that I want
Do anything you say
But then I wait and it's another day
Yeah, you're all that I want
Do anything you say
I guess there's no peace till I make my grave
Well, that's great From the garden, hey
I put some flowers, babe
Yeah, I brought them here
Say I'm sorry for what I've done
I said garbage, babe
And your heart [?]
I said you're nothing to me
Say, say I want your love No, I never, never love someone until I'd seen you, baby
'Til I'd seen you dancing
But, if I could have had you won
It's just the face that captivates
I would have kept it that way
So I say I say I think I know what love is now
I think I got it figured out
But then the second that I open my mouth
I want to change my heart again
I say I think I know what love is now
I think I kinda figured it out
But then the second that I open my mouth
I'm going to change my heart again
I'm going to change my heart again, gain, gain, gain, gain
I'm going to change my heart again
I'm going to change my heart again, gain, gain, gain, gain Say that you're all that I want
Do anything you say
But then I wait and it's another day
Yeah, you're all that I want
Do anything you say
I guess there's no peace till I make my grave
Well, that's great
