Forget

Drowning Pool

I can see it your eyes, why you're here tonight
Looking for that something sacred you'll never find
And you know there must be some way to wash away the pain
Just like you did your faith
So we can forget, forget, forget
Forget the fear you try to hide
Forget, forget, forget
Forget the pain you keep inside
And before we all regress to this emptiness
Crawl across the floor once more, scraping hands and knees
And just know there must be some way to wash away the pain
Just like you did your faith
So we can forget, forget, forget
Forget the fear you try to hide
Forget, forget, forget
Forget the pain you keep inside
I know that all of us must feel the same

I know that all of us must feel this way
Forget the past
Forget the pain
Forget your fear
Yeah, so we can forget, forget, forget
Forget the fear you try to hide
Forget, forget, forget
Forget the pain you keep inside
Forget, forget, forget
Forget the fear you try to hide
Forget, forget, forget
Forget the pain you keep inside
Forget the pain you keep inside
Forget the pain you keep inside
Forget, forget, forget
