Windows

Toro y Moi

I zero on it
I might blame it on the light
Hey child
I needed no attitude
With a frame out of mind
Got a box-set view
With a pastel sunset
Are you still feelin' blue?
(Oh baby turn it around)
Are you still feelin' blue?
Better give me something with no attitude
Got me staring out my window
But you shout and stretch the light
Got me staring out my window
Got me staring out my window
But you shout and stretch the light
Got me staring out my windowThis is not fantasy
This is how it's really to me
I'm gonna love her oh
It's a sorrow and I'll just do my sofa
Overstay my welcome
I think I could've left you standing there alone
I think there's something, startup error out for knowsGot me staring out my window
But you shout and stretch the light
Got me staring out my window
Got me staring out my window
But you shout and stretch the light
Got me staring out my window
I'm just trying to paint my picture best I can
I got all this weight falling in my hands
I don't wanna diss your love
Then I gotta let this go
