Another Used To Be

Joe Thomas

I brought you here so that I could Express the things I've been thinking about
Give me your ear 'cause I don't normally do this
So bare with me through this
There are so many things that I wanna say
But let me start by simply saying I thank you
Darling just because
I used to love someone that I didn't like
We used to wanna break up every other night
I used to think relationships were a lot of stress
I used to think that pain was a part of happiness
Now all that changed since you've come my way
But I don't want us to become
Another used to be
I hope what I'm saying don't discourage you
In any kind of way 'cause I do believe
You have a potential to be everything I need
I hope that you can really understand
That I would hate to be with someone new
And tell her what I'm telling you
I used to love someone that I didn't like
We used to wanna break up every other night
I used to think relationships were a lot of stress
I used to think that pain was a part of happiness
Now all that changed since you've come my way
But I don't want us to become
Another used to be

'Cause it would only be a another waste of time
Another moment to erase out of my mind
Another memory a part of history
I can't forget it 'cause it keeps on haunting me
Now that you're here
It's evidently clear
I don't ever have to have this worry again, again
I used to love someone that I didn't like
We used to wanna break up every other night
I used to think relationships were a lot of stress
I used to think that pain was a part of happiness

Now all that changed since you've come my way
But I don't want us to become
Another used to be
I used to love someone that I didn't like
We used to wanna break up every other night
I used to think relationships were a lot of stress
I used to think that pain was a part of happiness
Now all that changed since you've come my way
But I don't want us to become
I used to love someone that I didn't like
We used to wanna break up every other night
I used to think relationships were a lot of stress
I used to think that pain was a part of happiness
Now all that changed since you've come my way
But I don't want us to become
Another used to be

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/