What's the point, are you even listening To my voice,
or has it just faded away?
I wanna know, take your comprehend Of the time you've wasted, how could you be so hollow?
(Drums & Guitar) build up
Don't waste my time, with this patience this world plays to see.
You think my mind might have destroyed the second chances.
Breathe away while we survive.
But our savior will lead us up there You missed the truth, while you fall and miss yourselves.
Its all a murder, and it wont let it get the best of me.
It follows me, internally, i can't get it out of my head.
Well take your breath, off your chest Oh I'm begging you please give me a reason
I'm making mistakes I've take, learning your lessons the hard way!
So let it drip, oh I'll promise you'll find me a reason
Please don't drown your life away, only you can change the mistakes you've made.
Only you can choose to find the truth, it's your desire with what you've had too lose.
A reach for light, because your going along the skies, and yes i know, a way in your head I've said i won't take the light for the life, that you had to lead, I'm just trying to make these changes from right to wrong.
Said you fancied (Fancied me home) Wait! This is just for it be, to find your way to riches!
Your own your own son, your losing sorrow, you've lived the tides as a filled up human life
And I want you to fill out your own quest, i know it's missing the great from the worthless
It follows me, internally, i can't get it out of my head.
Well take your breath, off your chest Oh I'm begging you please give me a reason I'm making mistakes I've take, learning your lessons the hard way!
So let it drip, oh I'll promise you'll find me a reason
Please don't drown your life away, only you can change the mistakes you've made.

So when will you run now? You see the truth in your eyes, you know you can't escape.
So when will you run now? You know you can't escape, you know you'll never fade
Because we see that the rules around the gates, burning ablaze see the world uncover You'll say you won't let me go down
