Only The Strong Survive

Mcfly

The worst is over and the sky is clear
And there's not a place on earth I'd rather be than here
But on the horizon
As the morning breaks
I can see a brand new day that's full of new mistakes
They tell me that only the strong survive
I don't know if we'll make it through the night
I guess I'll see you in the after light
They tell me that only the strong survive
Gotta keep on running
Stay on the attack
'Cause the day you quit's the day you wish you had it back
They tell me that only the strong survive
I don't know if we'll make it through the night
I guess I'll see you in the after light
They tell me that only the strong survive
Yeah
If we're gonna die tomorow at least we can say life has been alright
Yeah
It's been alright
We can beg or we can borrow but in the end everything is alright
Everything is alright
Alright
Every time we get up we'll be destined to fall
And I'm asking myself is it worth this at all
Every corner we turn we just run into walls
Because loving you feels like a kick in the balls

Everytime we get up we'll be destined to fall
(Destined to fall)
And I'm asking myself is it worth this at all
(Worth this at all)
Every corner we turn we just run into walls,
Because loving you feels like a kick in the balls
They tell me that only the strong survive
I don't know if we'll make it through the night
I guess I'll see you in the after light
They tell me that only the strong survive
Yeah
