

Once

Nullgrad

Once embraced, can't ever be let go
Once revealed, can't ever be not shown
    Once believed, can't ever lose faith
    Once shared, can't ever be separate
Once sown, once can't ever be not reaped
    Like the dawn of a brand new day
        With the power of deity
        Well, I can feel it inside of me
        Feel it, well, can you feel it?
Once born, can't ever be not conceived
    Once present, can't ever be past
Once first, once can't ever be not ever last
    Returning home of the Prodigal
        Holding the intangible
        To believe in a miracle
        Believe it, can you believe it?
        Have you ever been touched?
        Once whoa, really touched?
        Could it ever be too much?
        Whoa oh oh, can you tell me?
        Once seen, can't ever lose sight
        Once dawn, can't ever be not light
            Once, once felt, once felt
            Can't ever be untouched
        The assurance only hope can bring
        With the conviction of the unseen
        See it's greater than everything
            See it, oh, can you see it?
            Have you ever been touched?
        Once whoa oh, really, really touched?
            Could it ever be too much?
            Whoa oh oh, can you tell me?
        Have you ever really touched love once?
            Oh, have you ever been touched?
            Once whoa oh oh, really touched?
                Could it ever be too much?
                I don't know, did you tell me?
                Have you ever really touched
        Once, whoa oh really, really touched?

Could it ever be too much?
Oh, somebody tell me
Have you ever really touched
Love once?
Ah, have you ever really touched
Love once?
Have you ever really touched love
Touched love?
Oh, love once
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
