

Your Love My Love

Nana Mouskouri

In a world as changeable as skies above
Where the eagle all too often overtakes the dove
There is one thing in this life we can be certain of
Your love, my love
Nation fights with nation, everyday somewhere
But through every situation we will not despair
For we know that our salvation is the gift we share
Your love, my love
Lock me, desert me
I'll get by love, now you're my love
Nothing can hurt me, now I'm sure of your love
When our castles crumble and our dreams take flight
And we sometimes find it hard to face the morning light
There is one thing that will see us through the darkest night
Your love, my love
I will never fear what fate may have in store
For with every passing year, I love you more and more
And as long as I'm alive, I will be living for
Your love, my love
Lock me, desert me
I'll get by love, now you're my love
Nothing can hurt me
Now, I'm sure of your love
In a world where peace and harmony are strange
And whatever dreams our destiny may rearrange
There is one thing on this earth that time will never change
Your love, my love, your love, our love
