

U-Turn

Samantha

You said that I could trust in you
You said that it would be ok I was madly in love with you believed in every word you said
I counted the days and nights
that you kept out of sight
I dont think you'll ever return Well in that case... You can burn motherfucker burn
I push the brakes and make a U-turn
Im driving back in the fastlane, to my world before you came
You said that I could trust in you
believed in every word you said
I counted the days and nights
that you kept out of sight
I dont think you'll ever return Burn motherfucker burn You can burn motherfucker burn
I push the brakes and make a U-turn
Im driving back in the fastlane, to my world before you came How could I be so blind?
I didnt see it coming believed in all your lies You treated me so kind like I was in heaven
But lately its been hell
I get up again
I know I will
I get up again
And now you can burn motherfucker burn
I push the brakes and make a U-turn
Im driving back in the fastlane, to my world before you came
