I Don't Need A Hero

Concrete Blonde

You always said I was a liar but we burn like a house on fire
No matter what, you know that to be true
And everything you gave to me changed everything I used to be Much more than anyone I ever knewAnd I don't need a hero, I don't need a soldier
Did when I was younger but now that I'm older
I don't need a father, I don't wanna be your mother
It's just that anyone of us is half without another one is you, is youThe colors of that piece of time and still so fresh inside my mind
And it makes the movie of my like seem pale
And all the games I have to play, I got to give a lot of me away
But the part with us will never be for saleAnd I don't need a hero, I don't need a soldier
Did when I was younger but now that I'm older
I don't need a father, I don't wanna be your mother
It's just that anyone of us is half without another one is youThe words of love have been confused the ways of love have been abused
Is this a lottery you win or lose? I don't know
It's a endless circle over time the place inside where I hold and find
Your sweet and happy music in my soulAnd I don't need a hero and I don't need a soldier
I did when I was younger but now I am so much that I'm older
I don't need a father, I don't wanna be your mother
It's just that anyone of us is half without another one is you, is you
