

One Night Away

Delays

There's nothing in the morning
Just flowers and a feeling
That yesterday was stalling
For time to let the scene in But you know how everything grows
And you know, the feeling is love
But you're one night away
You're one night away The snow has started falling
And covered our graffiti
I wander through the city
To find we're stealing evening But you know how everything grows
And you know the feeling is love
But you're one night away
You're one night away, oh, yeah
Oh, you're one night away The feeling is love
The feeling is love
The feeling is love The feeling is love
The feeling is love
The feeling is love Love
Love
