

The Cabin

Irish Moutarde

I'm out of work and want a change, got nothing left to lose
I need to leave everything to help me clear my mind
My spot in timberland and a few bottles of booze
Is a great start for what I hope to find
So you tried to find a way out, you were caught in the cabin
You thought that you could escape but it was only a dream
You were hidden in the forest hoping to find some peace at last
But it got back to you 'cause no one could find you
Trapped inside my shack, I don't know what I can do
Is there a solution for my pursuit of happiness?
Can't live like this anymore, need a helping hand, but who?
To achieve my goal is hard when I'm a total mess
So you tried to find a way out, you were caught in the cabin
You thought that you could escape but it was only a dream
You were hidden in the forest hoping to find some peace at last
But it got back to you 'cause no one could find you
My last chance is to hold on and keep my spirits high
Going back to the wood might give me strenght to move on Staying here by myself could not hide my destiny
Anyway I'm sure that people won't know that I'm gone
So you tried to find a way out, you were caught in the cabin
You thought that you could escape but it was only a dream
You were hidden in the forest hoping to find some peace at last
But it got back to you 'cause no one could find you
