

I Don't Think Your Love Can Save Me

Roderick Taylor Falconer

Hard are the hearts pretending to be looking for love passionately

They lie in waiting for someone like you Someone not to love but to put their love into

For black is the night and the stars do sing out but heaven is so far away

I don't think your love can save me
but I want it anyway

Dark is the beauty
the blood of the rose
the shadows on faces
when the days have to close

I have no news
I'm just thinking of you and of the best
and the worst things we could take each other unto
