Monster

The Almost

In this strange tender love I'm learning how to see. In this weird change of space,I'm learning to believe.In this life,I will live,I feel you helping me.
And if I were a monster,would you wince when you looked at me? And if I were a freak,would you stare? And if I were a leper,would you say unclean? And if I was lost,would you help me get free? Yeah..yeah.
Time and space are closing in,there turning me weak.You and me are making friends,just learning how to be. I learn from you and your watching me. This is the way to be.
And if I were a monster,would you wince when you looked at me? And if I were a freak,would you stare? And if I were a leper,would you say unclean? And if I was lost?...
This is real, this is now. I don't wanna go. Now hold on, you let go. Will I ever know?
And if I were a monster,would you wince when you looks at me?...If I were a freak..would you stare?
When I am a monster, you never wince when you look at me. And when I am a freak, you never stare. When I am a leper you never say unclean. And when I am lost..and when I am lost..you come and get me free. You come and get me free. You come and get me free. You come and get me free. You come and get me free.
Are you ready to live your life? And are you healed enough? Can you stop can you stop and enjoy the ride?
