

It's Only Chemistry

Nicole Atkins

all that you love
and what makes you feel free is and forever will be all that you hate and what's lacking in heart you need only look to the stars you've lost your mind you've lost your mind
whether it's fortune things are uncertain blame it on boredom i don't care ghosts on the corner they ain't looking for ya maybe it's a sign the ideal is not real and you seek but you never find all that you love
and what makes you feel free
playing with old blues to cover a new glue what it means to you i don't care songs cannot cover the ache of another at least they can try and you know i can't read all the goddamn time all that you love
and what makes you feel free
you need only look to the stars why, daddy, why daddy why can't he stay? he can but he's strong anyway and when will my day start to help me to see it's only when you will agree that it's only chemistry why, daddy, why is it hard to let go?
it hurts when your hearts start to grow and when will the light come and help me to see?
it's only when you will agree that it's only chemistry
