

Checking Out

Allan Holdsworth

You keep me hanging here
And you steal my time
While I wear my heart out on my sleeve,
Oh, on my sleeve. Me, I am falling down,
Come see me drown
Checking Out the bottles

At the bar Like to be away so far Me, wonder will the wind blow? Am I chasing snow, though I'll never show
My sorrow's face, my sorrow's face? Oh you, do you have to toy with
A bolted chest in my mind's chaotic
Lumber room, rattling on fair fortune's loom?
