

Coming Home

Thorne Empire

If I had wings like a Phoenix bird
I would fly the moon to find the one I love
If I had the heart of a loyal wolf
I would hold her close no matter what

I once knew a man who was rich and tall
He was the saddest man in this world
I once knew a man had nothing but love in his soul
He was the happiest man I have ever known

So tell me if you think that I am wrong
Life ain't worth living without a place to call home
Oh darling, I love you more than you will ever know
I love you more than you will ever know

If I had wings like a Phoenix bird
I would fly the moon to find the one I love
If I had the heart of a loyal wolf
I would hold her close no matter what

One of these days
And it won't be long
My darling will call out my name
And I will be home
I will
I will be home

So tell me if you think that I am wrong
Life ain't worth living without a place to call home
Oh darling, I love you more than you will ever know
I love you more than you will ever know
