

A Call to Arms

Truth Before Treason

Prepare our defenses
Is anyone out there listening?
Does anyone out there care?
We must make a drastic decision
Or count down to despair

A new generation is waiting
To rise up and change what's been given
The morals we stand for are crumbling
There is no room for surrender

(Chorus) I need another new beginning
From the end that we all know
I walk in the shadow of the weathered souls
That made their way back home

We will walk into the fire
It's time to emerge from the shadows
The path that we traveled has been too long
Our malice must cause their bloodshed
Assemble the forces and overcome
This bullshit that we have been faced with

Arise, my friends (we are needed once again)
The battle begins (we have waited far too long)

(Chorus)

The sky is falling down
Reveal the lies you stand by
Transcend into the hatred that your corruption creates

We must fight to save our nation - a nation crumbling and fighting to survive
We know what we need to do - the time is now to take back what we own
