Horny and burnout now is how it always ends for me
Chemicals wear me down in your summertime bacchan Faster Than the morning comes
She walks away like a lady It's always the fallen ones I think are always going to save me
I saw you go Faster I want to get off one time and not apologize You got to steal from the time of aIn bed she flexes her knees to try and abate the feeling
She mouths the words please to the poster on the ceiling I saw you go Faster
Right in front of me She stares at him so madly She's got the nerve to say She wants to fuck that boy so badly I saw you go FasterI want to get off one time and not apologize
You got a steal the time from a life that's passing by I want to get off one time and look you in th
But you're not the kind who would be waiting, not for anybody You're not the kind of girl who would Just one more time I could go off right now
I want to get off one time and not apologize
You got to steal the time from a life that's passing by Not for sale
