Break You Down

Godhead

I got a gun in my hand and I feel like a man
I'm the pope of my generation
I got to push myself over your goddamn walls
I don't listen to your condemnationCan't you see the fame that you bring
Is the only because of everything
That you wish to stop and bring to an end
But it only makes me hate you moreCareful what you wish for
It can only bring you down
Keep your spirit on the ground
Emptiness the only soundI know what it takes to break you
And I'll kill everything that made you
(I know what it takes to break you down)Take everything you that tried to teach me
It don't add up to a pile of shit
All the methods you use as you tried to reach me
They don't matter not a single bitI'm alright inside, I'm just trying to hide
From all the propaganda you want to choke me with Keep your face away, keep your hands away
Don't want your fingers in and out of my lifeI know what it takes to break you
(I know what it takes to break you down)
I'll kill everything that made you
(I know what it takes to break you down)I know what it takes to break you
I'll kill everything that made youI know what it takes to break you
(I know what it takes to break you down)
I'll kill everything that made you
(I know what it takes to break you down)I know what it takes to break you
(I know what it takes to break you down)
And I'll kill everything that made you
(Break you down)

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/