

Road Bin

Keren Ann

Mind you believe me and maybe forgive me
Rather than simply run
We're getting closer, each time it's over
'Cause you are the only one Every beginning has a new screening
Of our broken plan
Next time you depart make sure we're apart
'Cause love should be entertained Does it have to be from far away
When you love me 'til you're bones?
Do we always have to hide away
In a road bin full of stones? I might believe you and maybe forgive you
Rather than simply bleed
But under the anger, your handful of danger
Is handful of what I need Every beginning has a new meaning
But what does it mean at all
You seem to pretend that we'll never end but Somehow I don't recall Does it have to be from far away
When you love me 'til your bones?
Do we always have to hide away
In a road bin full of stones? Does it have to be from far away
When you love me 'til your bones?
Do we always have to hide away
In a road bin full of stones?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>