Shadowless Heart

Dramarama

Well the ghost with the gold stones is holding your lost keys
And the chocolate eclair boy is crossing the crossed T's
And the squid in the phone booth is holding your cold cream
And the TV repair boy is down in the old stream

Don't you know it's stupid to suffer for a heart?
Don't you feel the shadows in your heart?
Shadows in your heart

Well the girl with the moustache who washes your blood stains
That you got in that bus crash that started the flood rains
And you think it's injustice, the way that she trusts in you
And you don't care too much for the way that she touches you

Don't you feel so good when you're playing your part?
Don't you feel the shadows in your heart?
'Cause when the scenic sun comes down
You're gonna see those fires don't start
You're gonna hear those sirens cry a little louder
If you've got a shadowless heart
If you've got a shadowless heart

Well the coming attractions can read like a balance sheet
And the happening actress is crashing on both feet
And the ballroom technician is sewing a fishing net
And the high school musicians performed an efficient set

Don't you know it's stupid to suffer for a heart?
Don't you feel the shadows in your heart?
'Cause when the scenic sun comes down
You're gonna see those fires don't start
You're gonna see those red lights shine a little brighter
If you've got a shadowless heart

And when the midnight moon comes 'round
You're gonna see those clouds grow apart
You're gonna hear those sirens cry a little louder
If you've got a shadowless heart
If you've got a shadowless heart
If you've got a shadowless heart

Lyrics submitted by Larry Palais.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/