

The Artist

Slowtide

when raindrops fall and crystalize and trees stand proud and tall in size and shiny splinters reflect the sun chasing shadows that are on the run blue was my heart, but colours change as my body starts to rearrange you draw the outlines that make up me you are the artist that paints the scene you capture beauty on the screen sparkling stars right over me giving life to a fantasy majestic oceans in which I immerse your world is bigger than a universe

blue was my heart, but colours change
as my body starts to rearrange
you draw the outlines that make up me
you are the artist that paints the scene
you capture beauty on the screen

---

Lyrics submitted by Kevin.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>