Stand

Rebecca St. James

Written By Rebecca St. James and Reggie HammThere is a time for healing
There's a time for all purposes under the sun
There's a time for laughter
There's a time to let go and a time to hold onSo we are here, but why are we waiting
Why are we acting like dead men walking
The time has arrived
For us to arise
Joining our hands united togetherThis is our time to be strong
This is our time to rise up
To stand and be counted
This is our time to believe
To know in our God we are free
Let the world know to Him we belongLord capture our hearts now
Drown out the pleasures and treasures that bind us
Give us your courage
To be strong, to be brave, and to never back downThere's no time to lose
We can't be silent
In a world that is dying to find out the truth
We've got the hope
We've got the answer
Let's lay down our all
With reckless abandon

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/