Who's Crying Now

Metalwolf

You know you tore me up
You really wore me out
I swear I cried so much
That I nearly drowned
You were on to her
And I was on my own
Now it's you who calls
And it's me who's never home
Who's crying now finally figured out?
It could have been forever
Who's crying now knowing it's too late
To get us back together?
I'm finally free, back on my feet
It sure ain't me, who's crying now
I've lost a few more pounds
I'm getting back in shape
If you could see me now
You'd do a double take
I'm shakin' off my past
I've got a whole new groove

I'm even back in love
But baby, it ain't with you
Who's crying now finally figured out?
It could have been forever
Who's crying now knowing it's too late
To get us back together?
I'm finally free, back on my feet
It sure ain't me, who's crying now
Who's lonely now
Who's sad now that I don't miss
The love we had?
Who's crying now finally figured out?
It could have been forever
Who's crying now knowing it's too late
To get us back together?
I'm finally free, back on my feet
It sure ain't me, who's crying now
Who's crying, who's crying?
