

Truth Goodness and Beauty

The Cure

I've been waiting for the lies to end
Holding for the bad to go
I've been hanging for the ugliness to change
Waiting for a world too true
Holding for a world too good
Hanging for a world too beautiful Wishing for a girl too true
Hoping for a girl too good
Hungry for a girl too beautiful
All I say is a lie she sighs
Nothing I say is true And all I do is bad she cries
Nothing I do is good
And, yeah, all I am is ugly
Nothing I am is beautiful at all
Don't get this world
I don't get this girl So look but you won't see it
Listen and you won't hear it
Reach out and you won't hold it
You can't know it but you can free it
You can't name it but could feel it I've been waiting for the lies to end
Holding for the bad to go
I've been hanging for the ugliness to change
Waiting for a world too true
Holding for a world too good
Hanging for a world too beautiful Wishing for a girl like you
Hoping for a girl like you
Hungry for a girl like you
No, not like you, you

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>