Lay Here

Manila Under Fire

Lay here double dozen hours before I try again to find a the means to find meaning in this life the life

And I come up with none
I come up with none come a take a wake with me break free from apathy aiming at the sun
waiting for the that spark to come

And I still hope
I still hold on but my mind keeps floating away with my thought divided and word left unsaid we'll leave you

Losing all my focus as the seconds pass in the corner of my mind is free from what I'm standing still both hands spin burning fast

And I come up with none
I come up with none
you are my dying breed my sweetest symphony

aiming at the sun
waiting for the that spark to come

And I still hope
I still hold on but my mind keeps floating away
with my thought divided and word left unsaid
we'll leave you

with my thought divided and word left unsaid we fade in the darkness burns a hole in your head

And I still hope
I still hold on but my mind keeps floating away

with my thought divided and word left unsaid
we'll leave you

Lyrics Submitted by Nikos

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/