

The Transformation Of A New Civilization

Twiztid

Mutant genes cross-splice as horrible creatures of the night devour and feed on any cowards in sight apocalyptic grin, there's a monster coming out from within eyes change from white to black and crimson sickness pumps through the arteries as hunger starts to take control and swallows what's left of your soul go you feeling like a creep as you catch a glance of your reflection in the puddles of blood from beneath your feet don't look again cause you might die from fright you might see something so scary that you block your sight you can't control your impulses the hunger is overcoming everything nerves are twitching and your hands are constantly shaking follow the herds with hundreds crawling the streets feeding for thirst some are hurting so bad they only scream like you will when that day comes if you can just stay calm you might make it through the transformation of civilization(chorus) a new civilization has been reborn the fall out caused man to become deformed open sores on our arms and our legs looking like they've been infected with a horrible plaguewashed ashore face buried in about six inches or more and my reflection, horrified and inside I can feel it, it aint right and I think I might of died just spotted so I raise both hands and god it would be good if they can help me understand running towards me and its all pretty blurry but I can tell their all coming in a hurry and I stand up ran up a little further so I can get a better look at whatever it is am I on sedatives cant control it so I'm running like a zombie people all around me and I'm thinking let the monster out the sight of me is so disturbingly distorted that ya conscience can't afford to let it breathe so its aborted am I the product of a cloning gone wrong created though all the breeding's of a social crosswalk(chorus)

a new civilization has been reborn
the fall out caused man to become deformed
looking like they've been infected with a horrible plague
a new civilization has been reborn
the fall out caused man to become deformed eat the living to survive the pain because the hunger is the only thought inside your brain
