One By One

Nocturnal Rites

Ease the pain, no more dying
It's the answer that takes you higher
Just find your voice, that inner fireBreak the rules, and, point that finger
They're all trying to pull you down
Just walk up straight and let them know you lost your faithNever turn and walk away
Just spit back in their face
Forget those games they playWe're hungry
Until we come undone
We'll travel down
those empty highways
There's no way
Before it all begun
Falling one by one
One by one
