

I Will Still Praise You

Gretchen Espina

I WILL STILL PRAISE YOU

Now I feel all this hurt and sadness
Now i bear all this pain and madness
In this world I know laughter ends in sorrow
And today might be not the same tomorrow

But since I hear Your Holy Words they give me
The strength I need to run this race before me
With You at my side I set my sins aside
With your help I might reach that lasting prize
So in this world of change one thing should stay the same
To call upon and Praise Your Holy Name

So I'll thank You now for all Your love and kindness
Yes I'll praise You now for all this hurt and sadness
For nothing bad will come I know in those who love You so
And the end I hope this too I'll do I will still praise You

There in heaven where I hope someday I'll be
All the answers will one day be clear to me
And as I look at all the things you willed that I go through
From then until forevermore I will still praise You.
