Take Me for a Little While

Coverdale/Page

Now my days are growing cold
All the memories unfold
Thinking 'bout the friends we lost
Wondering how to count the cost
Now my days are growing coldI can hardly wait any longer
Now the feeling's growing stronger
Thinking 'bout the times we had
Good times always turn into bad
Now my days are growing coldWhy don't you take me for a little while?
Sing me songs, you know, will make me smile?
Why don't you take me for a little while?As I watch the rising sun
I see a new day just begun
Thinking 'bout the sacrifice
Wondering how to pay the price
Now my world is growing coldWhy don't you take me for a little while?
Sing me songs, you know, will make me smile, make me smile?
Why don't you take me for a little while?So now my days are growing cold
All my memories been told
Thinking 'bout the dreams we lost
Wondering how to count the cost
Now my days are growing coldWhy don't you take me for a little while?
Sing me songs, you know, will make me smile?
Why don't you take me for a little while?
Sing me songs, you know, will make me, make me, make me smile?Why don't you take me for a little while?
Sing me songs, you know, will make me smile?
Why don't you take me for a little while?
Sing me songs, you know, will make, me make, me make, me smile?
Make me smile?Why don't you take me for a little while?
Sing me songs, you know, will make me, make me, make me smile?
Somebody take me, take me
Won't you make me smile?
Sing me songs, you know, will make me, make me, make me smile?
