

Suffer The Serpent

Naraka

Why die trying when dying is bad enough
Start crying when you think you have had enough
Can't stop lying all you can ask is whyDon't worry, I won't say a thing
Don't be sorry, you were just another fling
Just be wary cos it's only you and II suffer the serpent
Beneath the iron of victims of before
Why find all the reasons
To make this life before me
Justified, my demon's at my doorGuess my name. I am everywhere.
It's all the same when you weren't even there
Take the blame. There is no other way.Cross the line, sent down under
Do my time but I'll never surrender
Just find the price you have to payWhy suffer the serpent
Beneath the iron of victims at my door
Why find all the reasons
To make this life before me
Justified, my demon from beforeWhy die trying when you think you have had enough
Denying, believing that you were tough
Crows follow the fragrance of decayStep up and meet your maker
Don't you stop. Can't save it for later.
Told you that you could have never ever saved the dayWhy suffer the serpent
Beneath the iron of victims of before
I've found all the reasons
To make this life before me
Crucified, my demon's nevermore
