

Turbulence

Inme

Look up and see the sky tonight, it's beautiful
Make sure that you look up tonight and see it all
The stars across the fire and through the clouds
There's no need to be afraid anymore
With just enough time for one last song
And when I wake up, you're gone
To know you were mine was enough
And don't be scared
My friend who I depended on was always around

My friend, she is singing a perfect sound
You've got all that I need
You're making my heart bleed
The sun ignored me until now
Just lie here with me
Your eyes, they hypnotize me
Every night I'm in a dream
There's no time for one last song
You took it away and now it's all gone
