Dream a Lie

Kohomua

Why do I have to dream of you when I don't want to dream a lie?
Why do I have to dream of you when I don't want to dream a lie?There never was a better time
For trying to set the words to rhyme
Of when a golden love turns blue
And dreams of dreams that won't come trueEvery night I call your name
We're still together just the sameA lonely room, an empty bedIt always seems that way
