

Dream a Lie

Kohomua

Why do I have to dream of you when I don't want to dream a lie?
Why do I have to dream of you when I don't want to dream a lie? There never was a better time
For trying to set the words to rhyme
Of when a golden love turns blue
And dreams of dreams that won't come true Every night I call your name
We're still together just the same A lonely room, an empty bed It always seems that way
