

Lonely Road to Absolution

Billy Talent

The sun has born a brand new day
Conscience has been cast away
Evil has been blessed with praise Heroes end up in their graves So who will be our saviour now they've shot your angels to the ground? It's a
lonely road to absolution
We must walk alone
It's a lonely road to absolution
We must walk alone We can't take back the days we've borrowed
No more time to kill tomorrow
No more time to kill tomorrow Down let's take it down
Raise up their heads on a stake
We will show no mercy
On evolutions mistake Change we'll have to wait
If we can't decide on a fate
Self appointed Prophets and their doomsday charade
