

540000 Degrees Fahrenheit

Fear Factory

Witness a blinding light, sudden bright light from a blast
Pulsing radiation moving through cracks under skin
Feel the fire in the wind, deadly kiss of scorching sands
Not a prayer of hope or redemption in your eyes
Hell exploded on this earth to take all that's alive
Standing at the face of death, terror stealing your last breath
Watch the firestorm incinerate you into ash
All that you know burns away into dust
So many lives, so many innocent burn
Every particle returns to its natural form
Ashes into ashes blown away just like the dust
Heaven burning with the sky, hell is not the reason why
Feel the firestorm melting your spirit into glass
All that you know burns away into dust
So many lives, so many innocent burn
So many lives, so many innocent
All that you know burns away into dust
So many lives, so many innocent
So many lives, so many innocent
So many lives, so many innocent
Burn, burn, burn, burn
