I Will Fight Alone

Firewind

Battles rage throughout hamlets and empires
Heroes die, legends are born
The righteous pray all through the eons
Still the evil unsheaths the swordGod of time keeps track of all the things
Gathers in the souls of the dead
A champion born, knight reincarnateFear, death, blood, flesh - my glory day is here
Over lords, raging hordes, the spoils of war are nearI will fight alone
Stand and face and army of one
I will fight alone
Until I'm overrunAnswer the cries of innocent children
Bury deep the overlords
The banner hails avenging warrior
Savior of a stricken worldHear the seer's foretell my - lonely demise
Reap the sorceress angered - am still alive
