My Turn To Cry

Cold Chisel

Well I was pretty young She was young and pretty I was so naive It was such a pity I said now baby dont you waste your time Just cryin for me I gotta go away for a while And you can be freeAnd baby, baby, its my turn to cry Baby, baby, its my turn to cryI found a job And you found a lover Hed been married before But you needed the shelter When I told you to have a good time I think you took me all wrong Next thing I know youre engaged And a kid is coming along And baby, baby, its my turn to cry Baby, baby, its my turn to cry(Im sittin at home, watchin the walls My mouth is parched, my stomachs tight You said goodbye, you turned you back I guess you know whats right . . . Im sittin at home, watchin the walls Birdcage mouth, I lost the fight You said goodbye, you turned you back I guess you know whats right . . .)I found a job And you found a lover Hed been married before But you needed the shelterAnd baby, baby, its my turn to cry Baby, baby, its my turn to cryI said baby..I said baby..I said baby.. its my turn to cry
