

Pre-Dawn Imagination

Phoebe Snow

When once we lived the juicy life the summer baked
the autumn fades
you pirate you to steal away with me I remember well you're drunk again
sweet heart you'll say careful there, wipe off your sleeve don't go searching very hard for your other half in me I recall your first kisses hiding in the closet from your mrs. the stern old sage and sensible is what you see by day the darkness made you cautious too but I stopped by anyway
